

Miriam Naor
President (Chief Justice)
Supreme Court of Israel
Jerusalem, Israel

May 2015

Dear Ms. Chief Justice:

RE: Appeal by Igor Makarov

I am an Israeli citizen, 79, an immigrant from Russia (26.07.1992), currently living on an old-aged subsidy. I have a scientific degree of Candidate of Science (approximately equivalent to PhD), I am a member of the European Physical Society. During my almost 40-year-long independent research in exact sciences and humanities, I obtained results of vital importance for civilization, the Jewish people, in particular. However, because of the present crisis of modern society, modern science and its institutions, in Israel in particular, I have been unable to get assistance for my mission in Israel so far. For this reason I should now appeal for assistance to the Supreme Court of Israel. Below I state my case in five sections: (1) my scientific achievements; (2) my current mission; (3) my current living conditions; (4) possible solutions of the problem; (5) my request to the Supreme Court of Israel.

1. My scientific achievements

During my independent research in exact sciences and humanities, that I started 45 years ago in Russia and, since July 1992, have proceeded with in Israel, Europe and Canada, I achieved the following results:

- (1) reformed modern theoretical physics;
- (2) discovered the true philosophy of science, actually the true systems theory;
- (3) created a methodology for reforming modern science in general;
- (4) created the frameworks of the true sciences of politics and economics, the sciences non-existent or underdeveloped before and socially most important.

In a black market, these works would cost perhaps billions of dollars.

2. My current mission

The above achievements, not recognized yet officially, pave the way to the reform of modern science and society, which, as an analysis shows, is urgently necessary to overcome the present general ideological crisis of civilization now threatening the very existence of humankind. So my current mission is to proceed with the reform of modern science including humanities and, possibly, religion. I have launched a dedicated website (www.reformscience.org) that has seen thousands of visits. However, such a mission vital for the whole civilization cannot hinge long on the enthusiasm of a pensioner. At present, to proceed with this mission, I need its official recognition as well as its social and international support, which I have failed to gain despite my numerous appeals for assistance to UNESCO as well as to scientific and governmental organizations in Israel, Europe and the USA.

3. My current living conditions

Observing my whole experience in Israel and abroad, I have had to come to the conclusion about a conspiracy against me contracted by Russian agents with their counterparts in Israel and Europe, the conspiracy aimed at isolating me from the scientific community and blocking all my efforts to progress. Moreover, there were numerous attempts to deprive me of normal living conditions and serious warnings against my mission. To escape from Russian agents in Israel, I have eight times tried to get asylum abroad (Europe and Canada) but failed, largely because of the consequence of a terrorist act, committed against me in Russia, that invalidated me in some important social sense.

At present I have been living for over seven years in a hostel in Haifa, which technically is very comfortable, being the only place affordable for me in Israel. However, this hostel, according to the contract, is beyond the normal Israel jurisdiction as regards security and is controlled thoroughly by Russian agents, the same sort of people that had persecuted me in Russia and that I tried to flee when immigrating in Israel. With their electronic devices and skills, they have spied and manipulated my desktop and laptop PCs, providing a false Internet, blocking and falsifying my emails and intercepting my faxes. Moreover they seem to have attracted to their business psychiatrists while assisting them by sometimes dangerous provocations. Their main purpose seems to isolate me thoroughly from society, concealing the very fact of my research, and then take possession of its materials, vandalizing them perhaps and concealing their original source.

4. Possible solutions of the problem

The best solution of the problem would be committing UNESCO to the mission of reforming modern science, religion and education, which is thoroughly consistent with its founding idea. I have applied to UNESCO several times for assistance and even visited it in 1997 to discuss the problem, but all in vain, because, first of all, they do not deal with individuals. Recently, I applied to the Israel National Commission for UNESCO (Ministry of Education, Culture and Sports) asking it to send UNESCO an official Israel request to consider my enclosed letter to its Executive Board proposing several solutions to the problem. Dr Dalit Atrakchi, Secretary-General of the Commission, promised to present my request to the Commission, when convened, and inform me on its decision. However, given my experience in such matters, the situation seems to be thoroughly uncertain and not much promising; therefore, the problem needs your assistance.

As to my previous efforts in Israel regarding this issue, I have for several times applied to PM Netanyahu to support my mission, explaining its vital importance for the destiny of the Jewish people, but PM was perhaps too busy to consider my appeals. A year ago, 26.05.14, I applied to Mr. Yuli-Yoel Edelstein, Speaker of the Knesset, asking him to consider an opportunity to provide my above mission with the proper conditions in Israel, setting up perhaps a special institute for it. The reception of the letter was confirmed, but no response followed. Before that, I applied on the same issue also to MK Meir Sheerit (29.08.10) and MK Ronit Tirosh (15.10.2012), then respectively Chairpersons of the Science and Technology Committee, but in vain.

5. My request to the Supreme Court of Israel

In this connection, taking into account that my above mission is vital both for the destiny of civilization and, especially, for the destiny of the Jewish people, and, therefore, measures for its support should be taken both in UNESCO and Israel, would you please issue two injunctions as follows:

- (1) an injunction obliging the Israel National Commission for UNESCO to send within a definite time (a week possibly) my enclosed letter to the UNESCO Execution Board and become an intermediary between me and UNESCO regarding that issue until a satisfactory answer from UNESCO is received;
- (2) an injunction obliging Mr. Yuli-Yoel Edelstein, Speaker of the Knesset, to set up a commission of experts to find a satisfactory solution to the problem stated in my enclosed letter to him.

Yours sincerely,

Igor Makarov
