

Oration to Sitri

I hereby invoke thee, spirit Sitri; you who are known as the twelfth spirit from the Goetia & a great Prince who commands 60 Legions; I wish to & hereby perform work with you; you have the skill and are adept at bringing love & sex into one's life and that is what I ask from you. I desire a beautiful and voluptuous woman to satisfy my every sexual desire. Bring such a woman into my life to be my lover and sexmate as long as I will it. In return I will make offerings to you as frequently & as best as I can. This portable altar is yours, Sitri. Every item on it is yours. I will also listen to whatever it is that you have to say & will spend time with you during ritual to discuss matters as a means of comforting you and keeping you company as much as I can. I will remain honest to you & expect the same from you. Once more, bring me what I desire to still my carnal longing; bring me satisfying sex to satisfy my lust for flesh. May our pact or agreement for mutual benefits last an eternity. Amen.
