

Oration to Abaddon

I hereby invoke you, Abaddon, angel who holds the key to the bottomless pit; you, who are known by the Greeks as Apollyon. I wish to know more about you and this is thusly for research purposes. I wish to know if the data I have gathered on you regarding your character and skillset is accurate & how you appear in general to those that summon you, so your physical form. In return for this information I will grant you these offerings and my time; also, an article will be written by me on you if you comply which will grant you more attention by the masses. I thank you in advance for your time. Amen. (3x)
