

SHOULD A DAVIDSON COUNTY SHERIFF SERGEANT WHO WAS PAID TO PARTICIPATE IN THE ARREST OF AUSTIN DAVIS ALSO BE ALLOWED TO SERVE ON A SECRET CONTAMINATED GRAND JURY THAT INDICTED AUSTIN DAVIS?

False Arrest Video - Nov 15, 2015:

Witness: "So you have the legal right to arrest him?"

DCSO Sgt. Solomon Holley: "Yes."

"You as members of the grand jury do solemnly swear (or affirm) that you will diligently inquire, and true presentment make, of all offenses given you in charge, or otherwise brought to your knowledge, committed or triable within this county, that you will keep in secret the state's counsel, the other jurors' and your own; that you will present no person from hatred, malice, or ill will, nor leave any unrepresented through fear, favor, or affection, or for any reward, or the promise or hope thereof, but that you will present the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, according to the best of your skill and understanding. So help you God.

Judge Cheryl Blackburn

Judge Cheryl Blackburn protected Judge Steve Dozier and her own hand-selected grand juror, Sgt. Solomon Holley, by denying a New Trial Motion requested by Austin Davis. Judge Cheryl Blackburn ruled that Davidson County Sheriff Officers are not part of "law enforcement." Question: Should Judge Blackburn disqualify a secret grand juror who was paid to participate in the arrest of Austin Davis who was wrongly indicted by the contaminated grand jury to protect an on-going Mann Act Federal crime cover-up?

WERE THE GRAND JURIES OF AUSTIN DAVIS AND STEVE MCNAIR RIGGED?

Grand Jury Final Report

The Honorable Judge Cheryl Blackburn

Criminal Court Division III

Davidson County, Tennessee

January – March 2017

Stan Fossick, Foreperson

Grand Jury Foreman Stan Fossick served on both retaliation indictments against Austin Davis. Stan Fossick has served on approximately 40% of Davidson County Grand Juries since 1993. Stan Fossick's wife was an employee of the Nashville Police Department working with victims.

How many Nashville grand juries are rigged? Should DCSO Sgt. Solomon Holley, who was paid to participate in the arrest of Austin Davis, also serve on Judge Cheryl Blackburn's hand-picked grand jury which indicted Austin Davis?

us with any information about the Steve McNair homicide."

Still, the grand jury foreman and two members will review the complaint and decide whether the entire group should take it up. Typically, the 13-member grand jury decides whether to issue indictments based on evidence presented by police and prosecutors. Their deliberations and documents filed with them are shielded from public view.

Foreman Richard Hillenbrand said the fact McNair was a famous athlete won't change the way he handles the complaint.

"I can't speak about this," Hillenbrand said. "But I'm a retired police officer, so I know the system."

A spokesperson for McNair's estate — Lou Taylor of Tri Star Sports and Entertainment Group — did not return calls seeking comment Wednesday.

It's unlikely, given the fact Hill has no connection to the crime, the grand jury will take up his case, said Glenn Funk, a former Davidson County prosecutor.

"A person can't go in front of a grand jury and ask for an indictment or investigation if they don't have knowledge of a crime," he said. "The grand jury needs to hear from witnesses, specifics of when a crime occurred. That is their function. The grand jury in a state court system is not an investigatory agency."

Metro police found that McNair's girlfriend, Sahel Kazemi, shot him as he slept

Judge Cheryl Blackburn

To defend Sgt. Solomon Holley and Judge Cheryl Blackburn's contaminated grand jury, Judge Blackburn declared that Davidson County Sheriff Officers are not part of "law enforcement." Based on the article below, Sheriff Daron Hall seems to disagree.

Davidson County's Daron Hall sworn in as first National Sheriff's Association president from Tennessee

"I am honored to represent this nation's sheriffs," Hall said. "I look forward to working on critical law enforcement issues and, at the same time, share what I have learned in 30 years of criminal justice experience. Although I have the title of NSA president, I would not be here if it wasn't for the dedicated men and woman of the Davidson County Sheriff's Office. They are the best in this country at what we do and deserve to be recognized."

Not Part of Law Enforcement?

Judge Cheryl Blackburn denied Austin Davis a New Trial protecting her own hand-picked grand juror, Davidson County Sheriff Sergeant Solomon Holley. Sgt. Holley was paid to participate in the unlawful arrest of Austin Davis at a public Sunday church service at Covenant Presbyterian Church of Nashville, and Sgt. Holley was also a grand juror with the contaminated secret grand jury that wrongly indicted Austin Davis. Judge Cheryl Blackburn contended in her ruling that Davidson County Sheriff Employees are not part of “law enforcement.” Judge Blackburn’s court was also provided information on Richard Hillenbrand and Steve McNair’s grand jury.

TENNESSEE SUPREME COURT RULES THAT METRO CHARTER ALLOWS DAVIDSON COUNTY SHERIFF TO PERFORM IMMIGRATION ENFORCEMENT DUTIES - October 4, 2012 - Today, the Tennessee Supreme Court, in a unanimous opinion authored by Justice Sharon G. Lee, answered the certified question by ruling that neither the Charter nor other state law precludes the Sheriff from performing immigration enforcement duties. Metro had the statutory authority to contract with ICE and authorized the actions of the Sheriff. While the Charter designates the Police Chief as the “principal conservator of the peace,” the Charter does not provide that the Chief is the only conservator of the peace for the Metro government and the Sheriff retained some law enforcement functions under the Charter.

Not part of "law enforcement?"

The Middle Tennessee Appellate Court and Judge Cheryl Blackburn's court were provided grand jury information on two criminal cases including Steve McNair's grand jury information. On Sept 6, 2019, the Honorable Andy Bennett dissented with the Middle Tennessee Appellate Court majority opinion to write: "The right of a fair trial before an impartial tribunal is a fundamental constitutional right... I believe Mr. Davis did not receive an impartial trial."

On Sept 17, 2019, eleven days after Judge Bennett wrote that Austin Davis did not receive an impartial trial in a related case, presiding grand jury Judge Cheryl Blackburn defended her own criminal court as "impartial" even though Judge Blackburn's own hand-selected grand juror, Davidson County Sheriff Sgt. Solomon Holley, was paid to participate in the unlawful arrest of Austin Davis at a public Sunday church service on Nov 15, 2015. Even though imprisoned ex-Judge Casey Moreland is now serving time in Federal prison after binding Austin Davis over for a rigged indictment, Judge Cheryl Blackburn denied a New Trial motion filed by Austin Davis as she defended her ruling with the legal argument that Davidson County Sheriff Employees are not part of "law enforcement." If Davidson County Sheriff Daron Hall is not part of "law enforcement," Sheriff Hall should stop sending out letters seeking donations for the Tennessee Sheriff's Association and he should resign as President of the National Sheriff's Association.
