

THE TENNESSEAN

A GANNETT COMPANY

Per sworn court testimony on Sept 24, 2018, Attorney Larry Crain's protected witness provided sworn testimony about meeting with a Tennessean reporter to prevent The Tennessean from reporting on child-molester John Perry and a child sex abuse cover-up. In submission to Attorney Larry Crain's limited injunction granted on Sept 24, 2018, a redacted partial transcript is below.

Attorney Larry Crain: In June of 2015, did an event occur that changed all of that?

Witness: Yes.

Attorney Larry Crain: Would you describe it for us please?

Witness: Uhm, well, several events occurred and all at one time. But, I got a phone call from a, uhm, I first got a phone call from the Tennessean. And they were wanting to write an article, uhm, about Covenant, about the abuse, about this alleged cover-up... Redacted.

Attorney Larry Crain: Uh, did you, by the way, agree to any interviews with that reporter?

Witness: So... I... I agreed... I did not agree to an interview. I agreed to meeting with him... Redacted... this wasn't really a story... Redacted... that he wouldn't write the story... And so I met with him and that is exactly what he deciphered. He deciphered that there was no story.

Attorney Larry Crain: Alright. So that time, at least, there was no story published.

Witness: Correct.

I have looked into this, and see that we have covered your lawsuit as it has moved through the system.

Best,

Hi Austin,

I called you this morning at the 260-1993 number and left a message. I'm off on Mondays and Tuesdays. I am still more than happy to talk with you, though I'm a little concerned that you have already moved forward with other media. Generally, we (the NC5 Investigates unit) tend to only work on stories that you'll only see, or at least will see first when we do them. But, again, I'm more than happy to discuss your case further. I've already gone through the case file online and read the initial and amended complaints. If you'd like to talk, my direct line is 248-redacted. Hope to hear from you soon.

Jennifer, thanks for taking time to speak with me. Attached is an Sunday School audio which might be of interest. I am providing you a letter which was apparently sent to 2000 Covenant Members. I am familiar with all of the men mentioned on the "committee" except for Mr. John Bryant. I did find a Mr. John Bryant in the church directory who matches an internet listing for Federal Judge John Bryant here in Nashville. (http://www.tnmd.uscourts.gov/magistrate_judge_bryant). Redacted

I don't think the police are participating in any cover up here. It's my understanding that once you reported it they investigated it. I'm going to have some meetings here to see how we can follow up. I do believe there's possibly some level of impropriety here from the church. Do you have reason to believe there are more victims here?

Dear Mr. Smith:

I hope BuzzFeed will follow-up to correct a story written about my family in June 2015?

Nashville Police lied to BuzzFeed reporters that the “statue of limitations was tolled, barring prosecution” in a child sex abuse cover-up case. BuzzFeed has not followed up or made a correction to a story with a significant untrue police statement.

Hey Austin,

I believe what you're saying here. I just am not sure it's a story for us at this point.

If helpful, I'd be happy to think about the right way to find a reporter -- maybe someone local? -- focused on this.
