SAP FICO

SAP stands for Systems, Applications and Products in Data Processing and is one of the lead providers in ERP solutions. Several multinational companies use and recommend this software. SAP FICO is a certified degree course where FI refers to Finance Accounting and CO refers to Controlling. This course mainly deals with the Finance and Cost Controlling module in ERP. It is ranked amongst the top 3 courses in accounting in the country.

SAP FICO covers practically almost all the areas in the business field. There are different certificate courses under these training programs. Courses like SAP FI, SAP CO, General Ledger and Reports can be completed at any time of your accounting career. Because of its high demand, skilled graduates can acquire jobs immediately after completing this course. SAP FICO courses meet all the monetary and accounting requirements of an organisation.

Who can do SAP FICO Course?

- Finance executives
- Job seekers who are interested to work in this SAP FICO field.
- Employees who are currently working in the finance department.
- Graduates who are trying to build their career in the accounting industry.
- Professionals who want to make their resume/CV stronger thereby increasing their chances of promotion.
- Finance Generalists
- People who want a change in their career and want to take up finance as their profession.
- Candidates who have a B-tech, B.sc or B.com degree or are postgraduate.

What you get to learn in SAP FICO course

In the SAP FICO training course you will learn about several financial planning aspects like enterprise risk management and accounting management. With the help of real time projects, you will learn simulation and prediction which will help you to analyse operational and financial data. You will also learn the SAP FICO architecture with which you can master the FICO module. The live projects will give you a better understanding about the SAP FICO architecture, design SAP finance related applications, configure different functionalities in the FICO interface etc.

Syllabus covered in SAP FICO course

General ledger, cash and bank accounting,Accounts payable,Accounts Receivable,Asset Accounting, SAP FI consultant level, controlling area, master records, cost element,cost center accounting, Transaction based posting, Profit center Accounting, Repost CO Line items(using FI document), statistical key features, etc are some of the topics covered in this course.

Job profile of a SAP FICO Professional

- Project leader: A project leader heads a group, assigns duties, assists them and maintains a good working place. The annual salary differs from organisation to organisation and ranges from 4 lakhs to 8 lakhs.
- Process Developer: Process Developer gives the required schooling and prepares and supports the usage. They also give their reviews on various measures taken. Their annual salary ranges from 3 lakhs to 4 lakhs.

- SAP Functional Consultant: SAP consultant assesses the requirements of the clients and comes up with a theoretical and algorithmic plan of action. They will set legitimate rules and will allow experts to make necessary changes according to these rules. Their annual salary ranges from 3 lakhs to 7 lakhs.
- Manager costing: cost managers go through the entire parts of the office. They utilise this information to check likening quality, incentive and oversee cost viably. Their salary ranges from 4 lakhs to 8 lakhs.
- SAP FICO Consultant: They are responsible for a number of things like planning, assembling, conducting organised testing inside and with clients and so on. Their salary ranges from 2lakhs to 8lakhs.

Skills required in SAP FICO Courses

Because it is a business oriented course, certain skills are needed apart from the practical knowledge for you to get a job. A few of them are listed below:

- ☐ Communication skills
- ☐ Oral and written skills
- ☐ Team management and leadership
- ☐ Project management
- ☐ Risk management
- ☐ Organisational skills
- ☐ Analytical skills
- ☐ Creative thinking

Business is not only about your products but also how you are selling your products. So employers are always looking for people who are adaptable to all conditions.

Finprov is providing a 3 months hybrid course which helps you become a SAP FICO professional. Here you will become an expert in using this software. The syllabus covers all the topics which are mentioned above along with practical hands-on experience. You will also get a power use certification. Since it is a hybrid course, you will have the option to choose an online or offline course based on your needs. Their course fee is around Rs 27500. If you are looking for an institute providing a professional SAP FICO course along with placement support, Finprov is the answer.