Phil Gawne:

Conventional medial wisdom writes up courtenay heading as an obsessive, anti vaccination conspiracy theorist. And having watched hours' worth of articles and lengthy .... Shared with me prior to this show I would struggle to argue with that wisdom. His medical worldview is tho shared with a relatively small but vociferous part of our community. I've recently had covid, but courtenay begins by telling me it doesn't exist.

Courtenay:

No, based on science it is not a real thing because I'm looking for evidence. Firstly, you've mentioned a 'virus' and I've got an affidavit here from the leading collector of FOI requests around the world, a lady called Christine-Anne of the family massey from Canada.

She has asked 211 health institutes across 40 countries 'show us the evidence of an isolated, purified, whole genome, SarsCov2 from a man woman or animal'. That's the definition. It must not be grown on monkey kidney cells, and to produce it, it must not have artefacts which are triggered as a result of antibiotics and starving those green monkey cells. So when someone says 'virus', not one virus has been proven in history to come without it being grown, when we look at the method statement, to find a virus, to characterise that virus there's 211 health institutes and this 14 page affidavit, thumb printed by christine-anne of the family massey, yesterday in Toronto, 14 pages which I shall leave with you.

Phil Gawne:

And yet, and I wouldn't claim to be an expert biochemist but when I was relatively young and living a lot darker than I do these days ,I attended the University of Liverpool and I did a degree in biochemistry and all the theories and science behind viruses were very clearly explained to me during my biochemistry and pharmacology courses, and yet you claim that there are no viruses. Is that what you are saying?

The claim is we've asked for evidence of it and those who make usual bold claims need to provide evidence so far, and as of 18 Feb 2021 the Isle of Man government cannot and has not produced a FOI reply to steven-william gardner on 18 Feb 2021, so anyone who claims there is a virus, we simply say, show us the evidence.

So that's the first thing you mentioned. You mentioned that you had a test. There is not a test for covid, so the test that is generally used - let's start with the PCR, it's an amplification tool, it's been used for billions of tests around the world that weren't tests. They use an amplification cycle because they can't grow this particle naturally, so they have to multiply up the resulting soup and they multiply it up with primers and additives and all sorts of strange materials, and you can literally, if you multiply this up by doubling, doubling and doubling again to try and find that sample, Kary Mullis, the individual who was actually the guy who designed the technique of multiplying up products for the PCR said it is not a test. It can find anything in anything was his actual quote.

So when we have people here, Rachel Glover, claiming the PCR test, on committee with the Isle of Man, is a test, that is fraud, that's the word.

Phil Gawne:

So, er .. I am struggling a little bit with, I mean, PCR test isn't necessarily the one we are talking about in as much as I took a lateral flow test. I know what happened. I know that the 1st day I took the test it was very clear that I had 2 red lines on this test. I had taken tests during the whole time of covid and never actually had anything other than the control red line, so why would it be that I started to feel really ill and ended up having two red lines for the first time in all the time I have been trying this and then shortly afterwards my wife had the same thing. Why should that be? Surely that is more than a coincidence?

Courtenay:

A location specific disease is the same reason that for a hundred years, best part of a million sailors died because they all 'caught' scurvy. They lacked Vitamin C. They were in the same location, the same contagion we must look at with Chernobyl and Hiroshima. They were not contagious diseases, they were location specific events and people wrongly attributed their 'outfection' in the same location as having the same causes. So the understanding of contagion uh we'd have to read The Contagion Myth by Tom Cowan to understand you don't 'catch' anything. You resonate, you are an electromechanical being and you only have apparent contagions in Wuhan when they turn on 10,000 5G base stations.

Questioner:

Why would, well first of all in relation to 5G or even 4G, we live in a place where there is no mobile signal so we don't have any of that, but parking that for now, you've mentioned Dr Rachel Glover. The clue is in the title Dr Rachel Glover, she's spent years and years and years studying and becoming an expert in her field, and yet, uh I don't know, have you got any medical qualifications.

Courtenay:

I've got no medical qualification so I would cite as medical experts as others that have doctor medical qualifications so I'm lacking. I have O level maths, I have no, zero, medical qualifications, so I wouldn't be as qualified as Harold Shipman, I wouldn't be as qualified as Dr Crippen. I wouldn't be as qualified as Dr Mengele nor as qualified as Dr Alex Allinson.

Phil Gawne:

And that is a very brutal statement that you've just made there, you've effectively compared three people who are known to be criminals, one an absolute uh sort of war criminal with uh Dr Alex Allinson who has no such charges levelled at him by anyone that I am aware of.

Courtenay:

I've simple made the qualification statement and you have made in your mind the jump, just as you have about infection and virus and testing with no scientific evidence when we scrutinise it, to support you. so, when we have people in Manx committees, making bold claims and claiming there is a whole genome and there is a variant, a virus, a B.1.1.7 Omicron UK variant, Rachel Glover has not shown a whole sequence genome, nor can she.

That is my claim against what is, I believe, quite clearly courtenay-adam-lawrence said this is fraudulent activity financially driven in the oldest parliament on the planet, so the information she had, came from a GenBank sequence where they cobbled together bits and pieces and created an in-silica genome.

Phil Gawne:

I mean... You say there that this was financially driven by Tynwald. Tynwald had absolutely no financial interest in making the island, or locking down the island for several months at a time. Uh we lost substantial amounts of income from the general economy and also substantial amounts were spent by Tynwald in uh in way of pay-outs to try to help the economy survive so it's quite an extraordinary thing to claim that there was some financial reason why all this stuff would be made up because it seems to me anyway that quite the opposite is the case.

Courtenay:

The currency reset under cover of covid was covered in my first book. So when we look at From Health Heretic to Common Law advocate that was the clue in March 2020. Then in December 2020 I wrote 'The Covid Con; A Wake' and so I highlighted some of the issues and the issues around the money that drives this and the WEF model that drives this is a currency reset for the bankruptcy that is besetting the world. GP's here, and many other people made lots and lots of money. There are covid billionaires from this narrative.

But not on the Isle of Man.

Courtenay:

...from this agenda. The whole financial inducements when we look behind the curtain I think we will find there's enormous amounts of money and the scripts that we are given allows no discussion of the narrative. No GP, and we could even say with the chemical treatments they are taught from 1920 when effectively the Rockefeller Institution took over the financing and promulgation of chemical based toxins going into the body and GP's do not have four hours looking at food and wellness on their teaching. They are schooled not educated. I've uh, previously when I used to be daft enough to go to a doctor, I did go to Dr Alex Allinson and 8 ½ years ago he said, I went to get my blood tested to sign up at Ramsey, I haven't been back since, despite having a punctured lung in January I avoid hospital like the plague, I'll come on to the plague, and that process Alex said that my cholesterol was rather high. I'm a ten times a Parish Finisher because I eat a high fat diet. I've walked 100 miles in a day three years ago so if I ignore everything and know that with low cholesterol you die earlier I will debate that with Alex Allinson with no legal protection.

So when you then look at breast screening, another one that Alex Allinson would perhaps champion, unscreened countries, the women live longer. They've done that real world test in Denmark, Sweden and Canada and it is lunacy to screen women for breast cancer when the issue is around their energetic body, their toxified body with carbs, with alcohol, with meds and chemicals. We don't look at the root causes of any of this and to inject toxins into anyone, man woman or animal, and I include animals, is a fallacy that is a 200 year old mistake.

Phil Gawne:

I notice that you've neatly side stepped the point, or the question which I was asking which was in relation to the financial incentive for Tynwald to make these decisions. I mean, there is no obvious financial incentive that I can think of. Now, I do accept that if your view is correct and that there is this sort of general conspiracy of every, almost every scientist that's ever studied medicine, that in some ways this is a big medicinal con of some sort which seems to be what you are suggesting, then I can understand, maybe, that the Isle of Man isn't big enough to have developed its own system of medicine, it would have to copy others, but there is no, I mean, if we could just try and remain very, very tight and specific on this ... There is no financial incentive for Tynwald to ...

Courtenay:

Ok, Let's do this another way, we're currently in, and I'm very grateful for this interview. This will be the very first National Broadcast that taken this topic on in the world. We can come onto Midazolam and Remdesivir but let's start on the money that Manx Radio gets £20,000 a week public subsidy, used to be moaned about by Ron Berry when he owned 3FM and ten years ago I knew these people, so I hope this interview goes out unredacted, and so when I have been in front of people and I won't repeat the word that Stu Peters said, he said I courtenay 'can't come on my show to talk about statins' probably five years ago now in case I dropped him in the brown and smelly stuff. So that's blocked out .....

Phil Gawne:

...but, you are on the show now....

Courtenay:

Five years on Phil, because we are seeing MHK's, MLC's who have been wilfully, criminally poisoned with the toxin that is in those jabs. They include hydrogels, self assembly nano-particles, parasites and so I only left you with a 53 page document earlier. I'll give some 150 page document that says what's actually in the jab, but let's go back to the money.

So the script that's handed down comes very centrally from the WEF. It has some massive agendas behind it which most people would rather watch Man Utd play at home. They know, none of them, what's in a vaccine. I used to know what's in a vaccine. I will happily debate with every GP here who's made, I believe, money from covid.

That's my claim, and so we would like a public meeting where they don't walk out because the last time I was asked, which was 4th April 2019, to present to all island GP's, 47 of them were there, including Alex Allinson. 15 of them walked out when they could not answer my questions on the causes of polio.

They have such a religion of poisoning young babies with jabs, toxic Aluminium, mercury, formaldehyde, nano-particles, graphene oxide and neurodegenerative chemicals, proven carcinogenic chemicals that 15 walked out. So those people who didn't realise that polio was caused by DDT, nobody I debate this with can debate it. Smallpox, we look at the Cutter incidence, so driven by money those bad batches, those toxic lots were sent around the world in the Cutter incident. Unfortunately now we are able to find the batches were the 'hot' lots that were sent around the world and they are the most toxic lots. They were sent to every US state and so once we track down the batches, the lots and get them in the lab, work from Robin Wakeland in New Zealand, the South Africans, the Germans, the Austrians, the Canadians who have used light field and dark field microscopes, what is in these vaccines. I've said to Beth Espey, we will all weep together.

Phil Gawne:

Ok, I've had... I've lived...and .. we'll return to this because I think... we... it needs further exploration, suffice to say that everything you've said is challenged by mainstream medicine of which the scientists number, the most significant part, I mean it's well over the 90-95% of scientist are agreed that conventional medicine is correct ... um...one thing though that I think most scientists would agree with you on is this general bit, general view about wellness and actually, we've perhaps focussed far too much on medical treatments and not really anywhere near enough in relation to diet and general wellbeing and the general way in which lives are lived. I mean, that's a winning point you have there, I mean... you've developed the Jurby Wellness Centre didn't you and.....

Courtenay:

I tried to. They wouldn't let me have the medical centre because they have too much money in a sick treatment model. Its £350 million in sickness here. Those of us who don't go to the Dr, my wife who is, dare I say it, her age is 69. She's not been for 10 years, has a leg problem at the moment that we will sort out. I haven't been in 8.5 years and I only went to get the blood tested. So if you continue to eat carbs you will get diabetes. If you continue to inject young boys and girls at 14 you will get diabetes. We simply don't understand the body. Wellness begins on the end of a fork and to say that consensus science that has trillion dollar industries, people have made tens of billions on the covid jab. I want to have these MHK's, we can start with Alex Allinson and ..uh.. can't think of the name, Haywood, the first name...

Phil Gawne: Michelle...

Courtenay:

Michelle, she's a medic. We will have a public debate, I hope, in Ramsey under penalty of perjury and they will do well to produce no evidence...

Phil Gawne:

.....That's a matter for you and them...um... but you have an opportunity... and we've only got seven, well just under seven minutes left um so, ... perhaps if we could just talk a little more about the concept of wellness... I mean... I ... effectively you're talking about championing evidence based health restoration ... um ... how can people effectively avoid having to go to the doctor.

Courtenay:

In my view, I'm 65 years old coffin dodger. Eat well, get clean water, ban glyphosate. There's the Stephanie Seneff study, 31 page, ban glyphosate, we shouldn't use it to scorch the earth on the IoM, totally toxic. My Jurby wellness blogs were done between 2016 - 2019. All they are is about wellness, they will highlight if you want to make people ill, breast screen them. If you want to make people ill, do the prostate test and that test has come to light recently because people don't understand the Great Prostate Hoax book was written by Richard Ablin, the inventor of the PSA 'test'. So it's in spending I think 30 thousand hours minimum looking at breast screening, antidepressants, toxins, so if you want to know how to be well do not inject young babies with anything. That toxin is the thing, the body can't chelate it, so the 'outfection' is people having multiple jabs and Pfizer has just had to come clean under criminal penalty to say it wasn't tested for transmission. It was tested on eight mice to boot. So if you want to keep doing the jab-sickness, chemical model, founded by the pharmaceutical industry, the chemical industry and the beginnings of Bayer-Monsanto as IG Farben. So these industries have enormous money and there's £20,000 per week goes to Manx Radio not to allow people like me on or say to Alex Allinson, debate me.

Phil Gawne:

Well, I would argue that that's not the case, because here you are and you will be on, you're on Manx Radio and you're getting the opportunity to put your case and it's up for others to decide whether they agree or whether they believe that actually you're talking a load of nonsense, and it would be fair to say that if you look at all the various sources that you quote... A vast amount of criticism of pretty much everyone that you quote from conventional medicine. I mean, for example one of the Professors which I watched and thought it was a very excellent lecture given by Prof Chris Exley. Google Chris Exley, you'll find Aluminium Adjuvants, and yet um Prof Andrew Pollard, chair of the Oxford Vaccine Group says uh that uh his study that uh uh um Prof Exley uses was bad science. Er others say uh well Keele University, which is where Prof Exley was based says the University emphatically supports Public Health vaccination programs and recognises (big huff from courtenay) the importance of current vaccines play protecting health in the UK and globally. And indeed, Prof Exley himself said 'I'm not antivaccination'. Um. So even your champion isn't quite as extreme as you.

Courtenay

I've studied more. He thought there wasn't any evidence of M.E. the 53 page paper I gave you this morning Chris Exley emailed me, he didn't know of it. He doesn't know things outside his silo.

The Oxford Vaccine Group is a criminal, fraudulent as is the Keele University Vice Chancellor. So I make these statements under penalty of perjury with no protection. So when you cite the majority you forget that science is search, it's not democracy, a 100 years of scurvy ships, pellagra, beriberi because people hadn't got the wherewithal to actually research what causes these hot spots. Toxins in Lombardi. The ventilators murdering people in New York. Remdesivir ventilated deaths on IoM. Midazolam murder at Abbotswood, 20 deaths.

Nobody has produced any evidence of a virus, it is heart breaking to watch these people, having been six years unpaid and having 9 years ago being a healthcare innovation advisor to IOM government.

The people who are ill are giving advice to people who are well, they are saying they can penetrate our body but no one is standing between us and the creator. When you look at the legal money involved there's not a chance in hell that we will have a full investigation by Mark Newey, the detective inspector at Abbotswood. This is what the people will champion around the world. A Nuremberg trial is starting in Australia, in Jan and these escapes of the harms of the thousands of people.... That dare I say you disrespect. The 1012 people as of April this year, who were notified to the MHRA being injured from the covid jab. Every week I meet people on Ramsay Parliament Square who've been jab harmed. Young ?? had seizures; A 21 year old working for one of the car dealerships here; 2 deaths notified at the weekend; A thousand people injured; my friend for accelerated cancers; my other friend from Port Erin who was ventilated to death in April 2020, with "his lungs full of covid"; There is no such proven disease.

Phil Gawne:

We are giving you the opportunity to here...so... its a little harsh to criticise me for doing that. there are though, several hundred people of IOM who have long covid. They are convinced they have long covid. You may say otherwise. Sadly, we are approaching the end of the program. We've only a few minutes left, is this going to be one of those where you will continue to have your campaigns and the rest of the world will effectively pat you on the head and say well actually this man has lost the plot?

Courtenay:

The six people that have said that same sort of accusation, I wasn't a little harsh to you, I was simply saying that on the basis of the evidence I've given you a 53 page report which you should study, for family reasons. So I know that from my good note keeping. So the basis of people patting me on the head with long covid, there were 20 different symptoms of AIDS. There was no HIV virus ever proven in history, you need to read Inventing the AIDS virus by Peter Duesberg and foreword by Kary Mullis. So, the test is not a real test, never validated. I would like these fraudulent people from Alex Allinson the chief spokesman and Rachel Glover and Rosalind Ranson to face me in an open court on camera, no legalers, no representation, just simply the good doctors, in truth, so that we don't have the slur put on the Isle of Man that we have a Dr Mengele type regime here.

Phil Gawne:

Final Comment: That was activist, protestor, researcher and campaigner Courtenay Heading. His allegations about our health care system are challenged by the overwhelming majority of scientists and doctors who have dedicated their lives to improving your health. I urge those criticised by courtenay to come on a future agenda and address his extraordinary views which do not represent those of myself or Manx Radio.
