Is there any tool that can generate leads by scraping data from the Whitepages site?

Yes, Whitepages Data Scraper is a tool that can scrape data from the Whitepages site that will be helpful in business development. You can build this scraper in Anysite Scraper using content. Whitepages has a huge amount of verified data from US residents. Whitepages is one of the biggest markets where you can find out the two types of data like if you are looking for business information you can easily find that data or if you want to scrape data of a person you can also get the details of that person.

Whitepages is one of the best sites for lead generation. You can scrape business details like business title, address, and telephone numbers, and can also scrape person details like person name address, age, and phone numbers. If you want to scrape data of a person you can search by using a name you will only get the details of that specific name.

What kind of data Manta site have and is there any scraper that can scrape this data?

You can build Manta Scraper in Anysite Scraper that can scrape quality data from the Manta site for you. Manta is a community in which small businesses can promote their business and connect to customers regarding their products. There are detailed profiles on nearly 64 million businesses worldwide, Manta serves as a matchless resource. Manta is a local business directory where people register their companies and grow their businesses by increasing sales.

Different types of businesses are registered on the manta site, you can scrape data according to your need for this purpose you need a data scraper that can do this job because it is not possible for an employee to scrape this huge amount of data manually it's a tedious process and also mistakes chances will be increased therefore you must need to use a scraper for this purpose.

Anysite Scraper is a tool that can fulfill your requirement. Anysite Scraper is a custom build scraper you can create a Manta scraper in Anysite and can also build more than a hundred scrapers in this single tool. You can scrape the business title, contact details like telephone number, email addresses, and services from the Manta site using Manta Scrapers.

How is it possible to scrape data from multiple sites using a single tool Anysite Scraper?

Anysite Scraper is a custom build scraper it means you can build your required scraper with this software it is designed in such a way that it can fulfill the need of every person by building scrapers according to their requirement. You just need to create a new project in Anysite Scraper by using a script and you will get your required scraper.

The interface of this scraper is kept simple so that a nontechnical person can easily use this scraper; you don't need any certification or any programming skills to use this scraper. You can scrape data from more than a hundred sites by this single tool. You just need to create a new project by using scripts. Scrape data from websites using Anysite Scraper and save your time and money.

Ahmad Software Technologies